

Categorical matrix factorizations

Petter A. Bergh

NTNU, Norway

We define categorical matrix factorizations in a suspended additive category, with respect to a central element. When the category in question is that of free modules over a commutative ring, these factorizations are the classical matrix factorizations. We show that the homotopy category of categorical matrix factorizations is triangulated, and discuss some possible future directions.

This is joint work with Dave Jorgensen