

Financial Mathematics

The dividend problem with a finite horizon

Erik Ekström

Uppsala University

We study the optimal dividend problem with a finite horizon. The key ingredient is the extension of a well-known connection between singular control problems and optimal stopping problems to the case of singular control problems on a domain with attainable boundary points.