

Weighted norm inequalities and the dyadic structure of singular integrals

Tuomas Hytönen

University of Helsinki, Finland

The past ten years have significantly increased our understanding of quantitative mapping properties of singular integrals in weighted spaces. These advances have largely relied on identifying a surprisingly simple discrete structure behind these transformations. I will survey these developments and indicate some new frontiers of our knowledge.